Vision and Mission of the Ministry

Vision

A thriving nation where prosperity and progress are shared by all

Mission

Engage all stakeholders in designing and executing effective programs that strengthen rural livelihoods, provide robust social security, and cultivate self-reliant communities.

1. Introduction, Subjects and Functions

According to the Household Income and Expenditure Survey conducted by the Department of Census and Statistics (DCS) in 2019, 82.8 percent of the total population of Sri Lanka lives in rural and estate areas. Moreover, one in every six people in the population faces multidimensional poverty, and 95.3 percent of them live in rural and estate-related areas. The poverty headcount index is 10 percent higher in rural areas and 27 percent higher in estate areas compared to urban areas, and access to educational opportunities, infrastructure and services, as well as the participation of women and senior citizens in the workforce and social activities, remains low. Furthermore, the socio-economic problems prevailing in rural areas have a significant negative impact on the development and social structure of those areas.

The introduction of a well-designed social protection system will help to increase the human capital and productivity of a country, reduce inequality and break the vicious cycle of poverty. According to the definition of the International Labour Organization, social protection is a system consisting of policies and programs implemented for the protection of individuals or family units from poverty and vulnerable situations throughout their lives. Although various social protection programs are implemented in Sri Lanka, the need to implement them systematically by coordinating integrated programs through the government has arisen at present.

Therefore, in order to overcome the above-mentioned challenges that have a significant impact on the development of the country, in accordance with the government policy of "A Rich Country - A Beautiful Life", there is a need for a comprehensive program to eliminate multidimensional poverty and ensure the social welfare of marginalized and disadvantaged communities through a development process that leaves no one and no area behind.

Accordingly, the Ministry of Rural Development, Social Security and Community Empowerment has been established by the Extraordinary Gazette of the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka No. 2412/8 dated 25.11.2024 to address the aspects of promoting sustainable development in rural areas of Sri Lanka, improving social security systems and empowering communities to build a self-reliant society. The main functions and tasks of this Ministry are as follows.

1. Formulate, implement, monitor and evaluate policies, strategies, programs and projects related to the subjects of rural development, social security and community empowerment based on the national policies implemented by the government and the subjects of the departments and statutory institutions affiliated to the Ministry and state corporations.
2. Provide public services within the scope of the Ministry in an efficient and people-friendly manner.
3. Reform all methods and procedures using modern management practices and technology in a manner that helps ensure the fulfillment of the Ministry's functions while eliminating waste and corruption.
4. Implement rural infrastructure development initiatives.
5. Implement social safety net programs.
6. Identify the needs of persons with special needs and ensure that those needs are met.
7. Review, restructure and introduce appropriate new reforms to public assistance schemes.
8. Provide assistance to tuberculosis patients, kidney patients, leprosy patients, cancer and thalassemia patients and their dependents.
9. Implement family counseling services.
10. Activities related to internationally recognized conventions regarding persons with special needs.
11. Implement necessary programs in coordination with relevant institutions to provide vocational training and create employment opportunities for persons with special needs.
12. Make necessary policy changes and implement necessary facilities and programs so that persons with special needs can work together with the general population.
13. Implement social insurance schemes for persons with special needs.
14. Take necessary steps to care for the elderly, increase the participation of senior citizens in social development activities and protect the rights of senior citizens.

The following departments, institutions and divisions are actively working to carry out the above tasks and functions effectively and efficiently.

Strengthening legal Mechanism

Formulation of the National Policy on the Elderly

In 2006, a policy document for elders was introduced. However, the National Council for Elders later recognized the need to revise and update this policy to meet the current and emerging needs of the time. It was concluded that Sri Lanka required a comprehensive national policy for elders to effectively address the growing and complex challenges arising from the country's rapidly increasing elder population. According to data from the Department of Census and Statistics, the proportion of persons aged 60 and above was 6.6% in 1981, doubled to 12% by 2012, and further increased to 18% by 2024. In response to this demographic trend, the National Council for Elders appointed a drafting committee to develop a new policy document to formulate a comprehensive national policy for elders in Sri Lanka.

The National Policy for Elders, prepared by the Policy Formulation Committee, was officially printed and launched in trilingual format during the commemoration of the International Day of Older Persons on 1st October 2025. This took place after it was approved by the National Council for Elders, the Department of National Planning, and the Cabinet of the Parliament of Sri Lanka.

Protection of Elders Right Act

The National Council for Elders and the National Secretariat for Elders were established under the Protection of the Rights of Elders Act No. 09 of 2000 and its Amendment Act No. 05 of 2011, with the primary objective of safeguarding the independence, protection, self-fulfillment, participation, and dignity of elders in Sri Lanka. These institutions are also mandated to promote and uphold the welfare and rights of elders across the country, ensuring that their contributions to society are recognized and valued. During the 20th session of the National Council for Elders, held on 14th May 2019, it was unanimously decided that the above-mentioned Acts should be reviewed and revised in line with the evolving social, economic, and demographic changes, as well as the emerging needs of the time.

Similarly, in 2019, the Sectoral Oversight Committee on Legal Affairs (Anti-Corruption) and Media issued directives to amend the Protection of the Rights of Elders Act. Furthermore, the Committee on Ways and Means, at its meeting held on 10th May 2023, also instructed that these Acts be revised.

In line with these directives, the then National Council for Elders appointed a special committee to undertake the revision process. The draft Bill prepared by this committee was developed with the intention of gathering feedback from various stakeholders and obtaining parliamentary approval through a concept paper. Following the submission of the concept paper, Cabinet approval was granted, and the Department of Legal Drafting was formally notified of this decision. The Department has since submitted the initial draft of the revised Act for further review and approval.

Preparing regulations and guidelines for elders homes

In line with the global trend of increasing elderly populations, Sri Lanka's elderly population is also being risen relatively. In order to ensure the protection and the advancement of the elders, a committee consists with five members was established by the National Council for Elders held on 30.05.2025 to prepare guidelines and orders related to monitoring all the institutes provide services on behalf of the elders and future activities are being carried out accordingly.

Smart Village Project

In January, eighteen final-year Bachelor of Social Work students were deployed to nine selected villages across nine provinces. Prior to their placement, the students received foundational training in community facilitation and rural development. A progress review meeting was held in March, where all students presented and discussed the outcomes of their initial engagement.

As part of their fieldwork, the students established community-based organizations (CBOs) in each village. The project team then facilitated the activities carried out by these CBOs. Through this process, the “Clean Sri Lanka” initiative and several community awareness programs were implemented, based on needs collectively identified with community participation. Rural women’s development organizations were also activated and strengthened to enhance local leadership and community involvement.

Under the Smart Village framework, the following thematic areas were introduced:

- Smart Agriculture: Training farmers in modern cultivation techniques and promoting efficient water management practices to support sustainable agriculture.
- Smart Economy: Establishing digital marketing networks, including Facebook-based marketplaces, to promote smart sales and support youth entrepreneurship.
- Smart Education: Setting up smart libraries and introducing ICT education in schools, with improved access to electronic learning resources for students.
- Smart Social Protection: Providing micro-credit facilities and livelihood support for women-headed households, while empowering women’s development associations to strengthen economic resilience.

In June and July 2025, the students received further training in developing community project proposals and facilitating community-based dialogue meetings. Village-level discussions were also organized to build collaborations with public and private sector stakeholders, with the objective of expanding employment opportunities within the community.

To consolidate their learning, the eighteen students conducted training sessions on community-based social work, delivered presentations on their field activities, and participated in progress review meetings to reflect on and evaluate their community engagement efforts. (Rs 3.45 Mn)

4.10 Partnership Secretariat for World Food Programme (WFP)

Introduction

The World Food Programme (WFP) is a government-sponsored programme established in Sri Lanka since 1968. The World Food Programme is currently successfully implementing food security initiatives in Sri Lanka under the Strategic Plan 2023-2027. This Strategic Plan is a five-year programme with a total value of US$ 105 million, focusing on responding to emergency situations, meeting the food and nutrition needs of the most vulnerable, building long-term resilience to climate change and institutional capacity for sustainable development.

To achieve the above objectives, the Partnership Secretariat for WFP Cooperation (PSWFPC) will be operational under the Ministry of Rural Development, Social Security and Community Empowerment with effect from 1 January 2025, with the aim of improving the quality of life of the rural population and for its smooth functioning. The Secretariat is the main focal point for the Government of Sri Lanka's coordination with the World Food Programme (WFP), ensuring that programmes are aligned with national priorities at the ground level, efficiently implemented, accountable, transparent and effectively monitored.

For 2025, WFP's annual grant support for implementing the programmes in the Strategic Plan is Rs. 1,250 million, and the Government of Sri Lanka has provided a contribution of Rs. 550 million for 2025 to implement programmes such as ensuring food security, improving nutrition of the marginalized and strengthening resilience to disasters.

Key Strategic Outcomes

1. Crisis Response: Ensure that vulnerable communities have access to food and essential commodities during and after crises.
2. Improved Nutrition: Improving nutrition with a focus on the first 8,000 days of life through nutrition-sensitive and nutrition-specific programs.
3. Building Resilience: Reducing community vulnerability to natural hazards and climate change.
